BERNSTORFF USED MILLION HERE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Berlin, April 14.—(Delayed.)—Count Johann Von Bernstorff, former German ambassador to the United States, testifying today before the war investigation commission of the National Assembly, declared that he spent $1,000,000 for propaganda purposes in America before that country entered the war.

The former British ambassador said he had no funds at his own disposal and that he was compelled to secure money from Under Secretary of State Albert.

"It was impossible to give large sums without first obtaining permission from Berlin," he testified.

"For the entire German propaganda campaign in the United States I disbursed only $1,000,000. A prominent American judge had assured me that he believed 90 per cent of outrages were fictions."

The commission resumed its inquiry after a long recess.

FISCHER TO BUY THE MARY POWELL

Expects to Complete Deal Saturday—Will Tow Old River Queen to Connelly—Price to Be Paid and Final Disposition of Steamer Not Made Public—Other Navigation Notes.

Former Alderman John A. Fischer of Abeel street stated this morning that he and his brother, Charles E. Fischer, expect to purchase the steamer Mary Powell, which is now berthed at the Sunflower dock in the Rondout creek. The junk dealers of Newburgh who bought the boat from the Hudson River Day Line are expected in Kingston Saturday when the deal will be consummated.

Mr. Fischer in reply to inquiries stated that he did not care to make public the price paid. At this time he was also unable to state what disposition he would make of the old river queen. He will have the Powell towed from its present berth to the Harcourt and Terry dock at Connelly some time next week after he takes possession.

The steamer J. H. Tremper of the Central Hudson Line opened navigation between Newburgh and Albany today. She came into the Rondout creek shortly before dinner today looking spick and span in a coat of white paint. She has been thoroughly overhauled and repaired, and looked like a new boat. She will run on the route between Albany and Newburgh.

The steamer Berkshire of the Hudson Navigation Company arrived in Albany Wednesday and was the first large boat to arrive there this year. She made her first trip down the river that night leaving Albany at 8 o'clock.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

"There is general recognition of the fact that the government's appointment of Sir Hamor Greenwood, (chief secretary for Ireland), and Sir Nevill Macready, (commander of the British military forces in Ireland), is a reversal of the policy of Dublin Castle," said the Daily Express.

"They are now wholly responsible for the Irish policy. It remains to be seen what Lord French (lord lieutenant of Ireland) will do—yield or resign. It is likely that he will do the latter. He is now in England to see how he stands."

The Daily News declared that it is neither generous or just to attempt to make capital of the government's policy of vacillation toward Ireland.

The Morning Post attacked the government's Irish policy, declaring it "would make murder easy."

LABOR BOARD TO ACT PROMPTLY

Expected to be in Operation in Few Days and Make Temporary Bargain With Railroad Men Pending Study of Questions Involved—Expose of Communists Expected to Help Bring Men Back.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 15.—Americanism and the railroad labor board were the two hopes held forth by government officials today for settlement of the nation-wide railroad strikes.

Attorney General Palmer was expectant that following his expose of evidence indicating that the present strikes are being fostered by the Communist Internationale, there would be further return to work today of workers on strike.

The railroad labor board is expected to take quick action to quell unrest in the ranks of the railroad workers.

President Wilson is hopeful that by tomorrow the members of the board will be here and will have been confirmed by the senate. The board will immediately get into operation.

Perhaps the opening session will have a message from the president. Once in operation, it is the plan to have the board consider the railway wage problem and grant a temporary adjustment, which will be followed by a permanent adjustment after due study. It is the belief of the president and members of the cabinet that such action will be sufficient indication to the railroad workers that the government is attempting to afford them just relief.

Attorney General Palmer will direct action against these agitators who he has declared are behind the strike, but it is his plan to first give the strikers an opportunity to dissociate themselves from the movement, which, he charges, is directed against the government.

While conditions today were far from what officials wished they declared that reports were more optimistic.

Congressional action may follow the expose of Attorney General Palmer's evidence. It is at least certain to lead to new controversy over the course followed by the department of labor in dealing with agitators.

MEN COMING BACK TO WORK ON MANY ROADS

Passenger Traffic Resumed Generally But Freight Service Badly Crippled—Truckmen's Strike Adds to New York's Troubles—Industries Idle.

Further betterment of railroad traffic conditions was indicated today by reports from all over the country.

Passenger service was more nearly normal today than on any of the preceding days of the strike.

Practically all railroads reported men returning to work. In some sections of the central west they were reported returning on a large scale. In the east the movement was on a smaller scale.

Freight traffic was generally tied up again today, particularly in the east.

The most alarming aspect of the situation today was the gradual closing down of industries in all parts of the country for lack of fuel and supplies. Even though the strike was settled in the next few days the situation in this respect would still be critical as reserve fuel supplies have been exhausted.

New Strike Hits New York.

New York, April 15.—Just as New York was beginning to breathe easier over the strike situation and its consequent endangering of the city's food supply a new peril arose today in the strike of teamsters, chauffeurs, porters and stablemen who handle a large part of New York's butter, eggs, cheese and poultry.

Only a little more than one thousand men are involved, but they are sufficiently strong to tie up movements of that class of food. They demanded increases of four dollars a week, with a minimum of $33 and a maximum of $36 a week and time and a half for overtime.

The decision of the produce handlers came at a time when railroad officials were confident that the unauthorized walkout of railroad workers had been discounted. Confident predictions had been made that the strike was "broken" in New York and from now on there would be a steady improvement.

Evidences that the strike of railroad workers, if not actually brought about by ultra-radicals, at least is being authorized by them towards further aims, was today seen by numerous handbills urging the men who are out to remain on strike "as a part of the great class struggle."

These dodgers advised the workers they would never get anywhere by following the "reactionary officers" of their labor unions, "who are the chief supporters of the whole rotten system of capitalism."

One official who was attacked in the dodger was W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who has been one of the most consistent opponents of the railroad strike.

"Sweep aside the traitors to the working class in your own organization," advised the harangue. "Keep it out of the reactionary American Federation of Labor. Throw out the reactionary betrayers of the workers who hold fat jobs, live in comfort and call your demands for better things 'illegal.' Make it one big union of railwaymen, fighting for the workers."

There was no indication on the bills as to their origin or where they were produced.

The passenger service on the railroads entering New York was further improved today by the sporadic return of strikers.

Freight traffic was still paralyzed. The New York Central was the only road moving freight in any volume and its service was badly crippled.

Three hundred Long Island shop men returned to work today at the Morris Park shops. Service was reported fifty per cent normal. Fifteen crews on the New York-Washington division of the Pennsylvania also returned to work today and officials announced that passenger service had been restored to normal with the exception of the Jersey coast division. Only 20 per cent normal freight service was maintained.

It was reported today that the strikers will take a vote on returning to work as soon as the date is set for the new labor board to consider advances.

WEST SHORE MEN HAVE RETURNED TO WORK HERE

"Outlaw" Railroad Strike Quickly Settled With Men Losing But One Day—Local Freight Service Restored, But No Through Freights Yet.

The "outlaw" railroad strike which hit Kingston Tuesday night when the fifty men comprising the engineers and firemen of the three switch engines and the entire West Shore railroad yard force here quit work, was short lived, the men returning to work today. The men held a meeting Wednesday evening with a brotherhood official and it is said at the close of the session voted to return to work.

Today it was stated at the yardmaster's office that local freight service had been restored as far south as Newburgh, and as far north as Ravena. All through freight service, however, is still completely tied up by the railroad strike. The freight service on the Wallkill Valley line is also normal today.

Passenger service on the West Shore is about normal, and has been since the "outlaw" strike began spreading throughout the east.

With no through freight being received or sent out of Kingston many of the local industrial plants are depending on boat service to get their supplies from New York and also to ship out the completed product. Inquiry at some of the cigar factories today brought out the fact that since the opening of navigation by the Central Hudson Line they were getting their tobacco shipped from New York by boat, instead of by rail.

CHICAGO STRIKERS DRIFTING BACK

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, April 15.—Further evidences that the switchmen's strike is losing ground throughout the west were apparent today. Reports from many trouble centers were that the back to work movement among the strikers is gaining, and that the railroads were handling more freight than at any time since the walkout started.

In Chicago, switchmen on the Rock Island lines and engineers and firemen on the Fort Wayne and Panhandle division of the Pennsylvania lines are returning to work.

The railway managers declared that fully fifty pecent of the switch engines in the Chicago district are operating.

Strike leaders denied statements by the brotherhood heads that the strike will end today. They likewise were indignant over statements by Attorney-General Palmer that the I. W. W. has been backing the strike.

John Grunau, president of the Yardmen's Association, declared Mr. Palmer's statement that he had been deposed in favor of "a one big union radical" to be untrue.

In view of the betterment of the situation locally, United States District Attorney Charles F. Clyne, is maintaining a "hands off" policy, while awaiting developments.

PALMER A LIAR SAYS FOSTER

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 15.—William Z. Foster, the mainspring of last fall's steel strike who was named by Attorney-General Palmer today as being one of the men behind the unauthorized railroad strike, denied strenuously today that he was in any way connected with it.

"Attorney-General Palmer is a liar," said Foster. "And I suspect he knows he is. His charges against me, as read in today's newspapers, are all bunk.

"I don't even know the fellows who are striking. I have been in Pittsburgh for some time, cleaning up affairs of the national steel strike committee. When that is finished I will go to my home in Chicago. I have also been acting as an organizer for the Brotherhood of Railway Car Men here, but none of the men of this organization are striking. I have not attended a meeting of the railroaders in months."

CAILLAUX COOL AT SUMMING UP

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, April 15.—With a monocle in one eye and sarcastic smile on his lips, former Premier Joseph Caillaux, accused of treason, listened calmly today while Theodore Lescouve, the public prosecutor, concluded his summing up of the state's case.

The defendant interrupted the prosecutor a number of times and once he remarked:

"This is not a police court, but the senate sitting as a high court of justice."

M. Lescouve took up Caillaux's South American trip, telling of his connections with Count James Minotto. Then he discussed Caillaux's visit to Italy at great length. He declared that the Italian testimony clinched the case against the former premier, "although he should be convicted on the other evidence as well."

The prosecution may conclude its case tonight.

By Misses Ausman Pleased Saratoga Audience.

The many Kingston friends of the Misses Helen and Gertrude Ausman will be pleased to know that they made a decided hit by their fancy dancing at a "home talent minstrel" at the Congress theatre, Saratoga Springs, April 12th. "The Saratogian" comments as follows:

"The Varsoviana," an old fashioned dance by the Misses Helen B. and Gertrude V. Ausman, under the golden radiance of the spotlight, resembled the dancing of butterflies, so perfect was the harmony, so lithesome was the dancing. Two encores were demanded before the audience would be satisfied."

The Misses Ausman are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Ausman, recently of Plattsburg. Mrs. Ausman before her marriage was Miss Sadie Bigelow of Kingston. These young misses are also clever musicians.

Governor Smith has signed the $180,000 appropriation bill for the completion of the Kaaterskill-Clove state road, according to word received by the Catskill Chamber of Commerce from Assemblyman Jacobs.

The work will now undoubtedly go forward rapidly for the completion of the road. It is understood that the $40,000 applicable to the work from the $20,000 voted by the board of supervisors on December 1 last and the similar sum applied by the state highway department has been nearly expended, but that the contractor is ready to push the work to early completion.

52¢ How would YOU like a raise like this?

—and for 34 Years Work.

THAT is the kind of increase in salary the minister has received. His living expenses have risen just as fast and as far as yours.

But he is paid on the average just 52 cents more per church member than he was paid 34 years ago.

The Minister Never Fails You

Every officer of the Government with a war message to deliver appealed to the ministers first of all.

But 80% of the ministers receive less income than government economists figure as a minimum for the support of an average family.

When hospitals need money they enlist the support of the ministers—and receive it.

But when sickness visits the minister or the members of his family they must be treated in a charity ward. His pay is less than a day laborer's.

We Pay Him Half the Wages of a Mechanic

8 out of every 10 ministers receive less than $20 a week—about half the pay of a mechanic. And of these pitifully inadequate salaries, how much do you contribute? Nothing if you are outside the church; an average of less than 3c a day if you are a church member.

All of us share in the benefits of Christian ministers to the community. They marry us; bury us; baptize our children; visit us when we are sick. In their hands is the spiritual training of the youth.

We Are All Profiteers at Their Expense

Part of the Interchurch World program is this—a living wage for every minister of Jesus Christ; an efficient plant and a chance to do a big man's job.

If you want better preachers, help to pay the preachers better. It's the best investment for your community—and for your children—that you can make.

James Bartholomew

James Bartholomew, of Roxbury, Mass., claims the distinction of being Uncle Sam's oldest postman. In 1861 Mr. Bartholomew started as a clerk in the post office at Roxbury, and today, after three score years is still in the same office doing special duty. Five years ago he wanted to give up his route, but could not afford to do it. Like thousands of others Mr. Bartholomew is waiting patiently the passage of the bill providing pensions for civil service employes of the government.

Heartburn Stopped by Internal Baths

Mrs. Ed. Bailey, 122 Channel St., Newark, O., writes Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute of New York as follows:

"I can truthfully say that the Cascade has done me a wonderful lot of good. I had heartburn or sour stomach for 18 years and would take soda in a little water to relieve the misery for a short time. But since using the Cascade have never been bothered that way, and I can eat anything. I have also suffered as from sick headaches and have used the Cascade for them and can cure one in one-half hour. I have had very few headaches since using the Cascade. The Cascade is a grand thing in that it helps you to help yourself."

The "J. B. L. Cascade" cleanses the lower intestine its entire length and keeps it always free of poisonous waste.

Thousands testify that Constipation, Indigestion, Stomach Troubles, Biliousness, Headaches and all the many serious troubles which they cause are absolutely relieved and prevented by this Nature Treatment.

McBride Drug Stores, Inc., 322 Wall street and 634 Broadway, Kingston, will be glad to show you the "J. B. L. Cascade," explain its simple operation and will give you, free on request, an interesting little book by Dr. Charles A. Tyrrell of New York, a noted specialist on Internal Bathing for 25 years in that City. Clip this out as a reminder to ask for the booklet at your first opportunity.

MANY ENJOY EASTER CONCERT

The annual Easter concert under direction of Miss Lina and Miss Sophie Schmidtkonz, given in the school hall of the Spring Street German Lutheran Church Wednesday evening drew a large and appreciative attendance, the hall being filled to the limit. The pastor, Rev. A. Schmidtkonz greeted and welcomed the audience with a few humorous remarks. He said, "What is it that draws such large crowds at our entertainments? We know how to please the people and give them their money's worth. People like to be happy and laugh. Our aim is to amuse our friends, that they may forget for a while the cares of daily life and be happy and laugh. And we can do it. We have the talent. We know how to make use of our children. Children are born actors and usually show surprising imitative powers, when well trained."

The program mostly consisted of drills and action songs opened with a striking tableau, "Our Flag," produced by 50 children and young ladies, with Master Daniel Bittner at the piano.

Among the pleasing features of the evening were a fine selection by Mr. and Mrs. Herman LaTour, a graceful dance by Miss Fanny Kelliher, and a most humorous sketch, "Married by the New Justice of the Peace," by Herman LaTour, Carl Will, William Menzel and Miss Margaret Rieser, who put forth their part with a snap that kept the audience in a roar of laughter. This evening the concert will be repeated and indications are that the crowd will be even larger than last evening.

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, April 15.—Wednesday evening there was a scene never to be forgotten at the home of Mrs. Ernest Hutchings on Broadway when friends and relatives gathered there to celebrate the birthdays of Mrs. Hutchings and Miss Millie Short. Beautiful flowers, baskets of fruit, candies and other presents both useful and ornamental were received and a glorious evening was spent and the time for parting came all too soon. The guests present were Mrs. Eva Wood, Miss Dorothy Van Gasbeck, and the Misses Ola and Bessie Short of Kingston. Refreshments were served and the guests wished Mrs. Hutchings and Miss Short many more birthdays.

Even though you're old and gray
It is nice to be remembered on your birthday.
Almost a half century has rolled away
But still you never regret the day
Of your first remembered birthday.
But as you older grow every birthday grows more sweet,
With the friends you love with you to make it complete.

FUR SALE OPENS.

New York Season to End With $22,000,000 Changing Hands.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 14.—Approximately $12,000,000 worth of raw furs, comprising the largest and most valuable collection to be offered at public auction in this city, were placed on show today in the warehouses of the New York Fur Auction Sales Corporation. These furs will be sold at an auction which will begin in the Masonic Hall here on Monday next and continue for eight days. The selling on the two concluding days, however, will be done in the roof garden of the Hotel Pennsylvania. Buyers from all over the country and Canada will attend as will fur merchants from several European countries, Latin America and the antipodes. The coming sale will establish a new record for this city and coupled with the recent midwinter auction its conclusion will have seen the selling of nearly $23,000,000 worth of raw pelts here within sixty days. Notable among the various collections, in addition to the sea otters, Russian sables, silver foxes and other fancy furs, are offerings of over 61 tons of Australian and New Zealand rabbit skins and enough moleskins if placed end to end to make an unbroken strip of fur 75 miles long.

Elm A. C. Dance Features.

What promises to be one of the most successful dances held this season is the Elm A. C. dance which takes place Monday evening, April 19, at St. Mary's School Hall. The committee has done everything possible to make this dance socially and rates one of the best of its kind and have secured such celebrities as Miss Kathryn Dugan, Miss Alice Dugan, Frank Bailey and Frank Tierney, who are well-known to local music lovers. A feature of the evening will be singing by members of the club through megaphones. "Curt" Shorter's well-known orchestra will furnish the music. Dancing will continue until 1 o'clock, and a good time is assured.

Sale of Wilburwood.

Wilburwood, 2:07¼, by Ed. Wo[illegible]-Sharlie Peek by Wilburwood, of the Wilburwood stock farm of this city, owned by the late William R. Freer, was the feature of the recent Chicago sale of trotters and pacers. Bidding was active and finally William Connor landed her for $4,000. The mare has been turned over to Lon McDonald to campaign this year in all the big stakes down the grand circuit. Some of the most sensational trotters and pacers on the turf trace back to Wilburwood, who was famous as a sire of dead game race horses.

To Preserve Furs.

Insects dislike pennyroyal; the smell of it destroys some, and drives others away. Take oil of pennyroyal, pour some into a saucer, steep in it small pieces of new cotton or wadding, and place where required. It is also well to place some between the mattresses, etc. When putting furs aside for the summer, fold carefully, with a little pennyroyal, and then wrap thoroughly in newspapers, gumming down the edges. Place in closely shutting drawers with a little camphor.

Over-Education a Peril?

Have you ever read what Renan said of over-education? Well, here it is: "A great danger impends because the accumulation of knowledge and power is unlimited, while the human intellect does not expand. There is reason to fear that the human brain may collapse under its own burden; that there may come a moment when the very progress spells its ultimate decadence. It will be like an equation that carries its limits within its own statements."—Los Angeles Times.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 15, 1920.

When there was an overturning of government in Russia in 1917 the United States department of commerce issued a bulletin, declaring that the change was of great significance to the United States and that it was not a revolution but a "comparatively peaceful suppression of an inefficient form of government by the succession of a highly organized and efficient form of government." It is evident that the department of commerce had no prophet in charge of its affairs.

That "free" people's government of Bolshevist Russia has repudiated itself many times, but perhaps never so completely as when conscripted labor was decreed. Trotzky explaining that "mobilization is more necessary now than ever because we have to deal with peasants and unskilled labor which can not be utilized to the fullest extent by any other means than military discipline." Ninety per cent of a "free" people forced to labor under military rule! How would the American proletariat like to see this plan imported from "advanced" Russia?

OLD AGE AND WORK.

Ever since Cicero wrote his "De Senectute" old age has been a subject of interest, particularly among those approaching or entering that period of life. The elderly man who takes the public into his confidence is as a rule highly optimistic in tone. Often he conveys the impression that he is pretty nearly "as young as ever" and that he expects to continue his activities for many years. Dr. William S. Welch, the eminent pathologist of Johns Hopkins University, who has just celebrated his seventieth birthday, is more than usually interesting and his rather moderate optimism has a convincing ring. He expects to retain his present powers without serious impairment for a number of years, but he does not boast of the vigor of youth. The observations and records of the last half century bear him out when, with all due respect to the Psalmist's allotment of three score years and ten as the normal span of life, he points out that in these days the ancient allotment seems to have been extended some twelve or more years.

According to Dr. Welch, the man of seventy who retains his powers may now reasonably expect to live and remain moderately active until he is slightly over eighty-two. He recognizes, however, that modern science, though it has done much for mankind in the earlier period, has accomplished little toward the promotion of longevity after the half century mark has been reached, and that long life is then largely a matter of wise living, which sane living includes not only attention to the laws of health but keeping active and keeping interested. While recognizing the need of such enlightened self interest among the elderly, Dr. Welch also recognizes that it is the duty of the old gradually to give place to the young and not hang on to the actual reins of business too long. The old "should make way for the younger men," he says. "It is important that the younger men should have a chance to do important work while they are in their prime."

There is point in this. A developed Christian civilization spurns the spirit as well as the practice of some savage tribes of casting out the old and useless to be devoured by wild beasts in order that there will be more room and more food for the younger members of the family in the crowded hut, but nature itself demands that the old shall pass on and give place to the young. Of course youth and age are not always a matter of years. Men of seventy may be more vigorous as well as more capable than men many years younger. But ordinarily when a man comes to seventy years it is time for him to give place to, or step gradually aside in favor of, his younger competitors. It is time also for him to think more seriously and more frequently of the new beginning, the new career, which awaits him in the [illegible] existence. It is this after [illegible], in fact, which explains the recurring and deathless emotions of youth, the feeling that one must and will go on without end, so often confessed by very old men. The body ages and decays, but the soul is always young.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, April 14.—Basketball season closed in Ellenville Friday evening, April 9, at Norbury Hall where the local "Big Five" defeated the Goshen "Big Five" team by a score 42 to 18. There was a good crowd in attendance and dancing followed the game which was enjoyed by the young people attending.

No preaching services were held in the M. E. Church on Sunday. The pastor, Rev. C. A. Dann, was attending Conference in Kingston. Sunday school was held as usual.

The April meeting of the Missionary Society of the Reformed Church will be held at the home of Mrs. Raymond G. Cox on Market street Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

ANGLE WORM FORECAST.

Cold, Sleet and May Snow Storm Among Horrors Yet to Come.

The uptown weather prophet "who goes by" angle worms he saw on the sidewalks after the rain Monday, predicts that the weather will be much colder before the end of the week and that a sleet storm can be looked for. There will be a new moon on the night of April 18th, and before that the colder weather will come, according to his prophecy. He says that it will be nice and warm the latter part of next week, starting about April 22d, and that the month will go out with frost and quite cold weather. His "dope," tells him, he asserts, that there will be a snow storm in the second week of May. According to a diary of 1857, shown to a reporter of The Freeman on Wednesday, snow fell on April 15th, that year to the depth of 15 inches, stopping the stages from running to Delaware county. An entry in the diary opposite the date, April 20th, 1857, states: "Snowed all day with a stiff north wind, and part of the next day. Fell enough to have made a foot in depth had the ground and weather been in condition to prevent a melting."

The Dirt You Cannot See

No true housekeeper is satisfied with mere surface cleanliness. The family's health and her own peace of mind demands the complete removal of hidden dirt with its lurking germs as well as that which can readily be seen on the surface.

Dirt cannot resist the powerful, purifying air stream of the Royal. It gets all the dirt on the rug, deep down in the rug and even underneath.

Draperies, furniture, walls ceilings, moldings and the "out-of-the-way" corners and crannies all quickly and easily yield their toll of dirt and dust to the Royal, which cleans by air—alone!

INTEREST KEEN AS BALL GAMES START

By Jack Veiock.
By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, April 15.—The 1920 baseball season has been launched successfully and the pennant races in the major league are on full swing today.

Fourteen of the sixteen big league clubs exhibited themselves before a total of upward of 100,000 fans in the opening games and the interest of fandom is apparently keener than ever, though chill weather kept attendance figures down in a majority of the cities where inaugural games were played.

The world's champion Cincinnati Reds, favored by many critics to repeat their victory of 1919, and the Cleveland Indians, favorites at large to win the American League pennant, started off with victories. The Chicago White Sox also started by winning. Of the seven games played, two went into extra innings and the showing made by the players in general indicates that they are in great condition to begin the long season.

The initial efforts of the Giants and Yankees were steeped in glory, but Yankees fans were consoled today by the news that Frank Baker, erstwhile home-run king, will probably be seen in a New York uniform within a week.

Baker heard the call of the diamond at his home in Maryland yesterday and got into telephonic communication with Manager Miller Huggins. He will confer with Huggins in Philadelphia today and it is predicted here that he will return to play third base, now being held down by Bob Meusel.

HURLEY.

Hurley, April 14.—The people of the village are promised a fine entertainment in the very near future. The Young Men's Bible Class of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church gave an entertainment lately in their church that took so well with the audience that the Ladies' Missionary Society of our church secured the members of the class for a similar entertainment in our village church for Wednesday evening, April 21, at 8.15. The program to be offered will be much richer than that given in Kingston and ensures a most pleasing and entertaining evening, so that everyone should not fail to be present. The program will consist of a play entitled "Which is Which?" This is a clever little skit, full of good hits and bright points. In addition we are assured of the presence and aid of one of Kingston's fine elocutionists and also a charming violinist. Finally Mr. Hawksley has consented to aid us with his rich fine voice. Although not so well known in Hurley, Mr. Hawksley is highly appreciated in Kingston, where his voice is in demand for similar entertainments. Of course, there will be ice cream and cake

CONAN DOYLE ON DIVORCE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, April 15.—Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, world famous novelist and creator of "Sherlock Holmes," today took issue with Viscountess Astor on the effect of the easier divorce measure which was shelved in the House of Commons Tuesday night.

While Viscountess Astor opposed relaxation in the British divorce laws, Sir Arthur said he believed it would be a national tragedy if divorce is not made easier.

"It is not generally anticipated," said Sir Arthur, "that if the great numbers of both sex now sterilized by separation, were allowed freedom to remarry, the results in population would, in a few years, compensate for the losses sustained in the war. At the same time the general morality and happiness of the community would be increased.

"The excesses in divorce in some parts of the United States have been used too long as a bugaboo to prevent reasonable measure of divorce reform from being put in effect here.

"Because Nevada is too far advanced is no reason why England should lag behind every other Protestant country in the world.

"It is to Holland and the Scandinavian states, rather than to England, that English reformers should look for their models."

SOLDIER DEAD BROUGHT HOME

According to Secretary of War Baker Personal Requests From Relatives Show 70 Per Cent, or About 50,000 Soldier Dead, to be Interred Home.

Many relatives and friends have been following with interest the plans of the government regarding the final interment of the bodies of the soldier dead, and the settlement of the question as to whether the bodies were to be brought home or interred over there.

Recently Richard Dawe of this city, whose son, LeRoy, died of pneumonia while with the 51st Pioneers in Germany, took the matter up with Congressman Charles B. Ward, and has received a reply from him stating that he could rest assured that he would do everything possible to bring about the fulfillment of the wish of those parents, who have lost their sons in the late war for the return of our soldier dead overseas. Enclosed with the letter was a copy of a letter written by Secretary of War Baker to Senator J. W. Wadsworth, Jr., chairman of the committee on military affairs in the senate. This letter was written by Secretary Baker to Senator Wadsworth in compliance with a request made by the latter the first of March asking information about the returning to the United States of the soldier dead.

Secretary Baker's letter states that there are three distinct projects of removal which have had to be considered, owing to the fact that the consent of foreign governments has been and is being progressively secured and no authorization had yet been received for the disposition of the entire list of American dead overseas.

The first project involves removals from all countries outside of France, and orders were given by this office to immediately undertake the same. Under this order removals have been made from Siberia: 111 bodies have been removed from the Archangel district in north Russia, the work having been suspended before its completion because of disturbance in that country which made further work at this time impossible. 121 bodies still remain in north Russia, and it is probable that nothing can be done toward their removal for a period of one year, or such time as conditions in Russia shall become more normal.

The evacuation of Germany is to be undertaken at once, the officer in charge of the zone of mid-Europe having completed plans therefor.

In Great Britain there are 92 places in which our dead are interred. Evacuations are now taking place in the southern part of that zone. Eighteen bodies have been returned from several cemeteries in south England and advices are immediately expected as to the shipment of a much larger consignment from other cemeteries in that area.

In Italy all bodies have been concentrated in one place, and the matter of their transfer to the states will be easily effected.

The second project of removal involves the French zone of the interior, including all the base and intermediate sections back of the battle area. It was first intended to begin work at Paris, the cemetery at Suresnes, a suburb of that city, having been recommended as a permanent cemetery, so that as other cemetaries are closed it might be possible to remove bodies that are to remain in France to Suresnes for permanent interment, but the congestion of French railways has been such that it has thus far been impossible to obtain transportation inland, and the necessary caskets and personnel have been transferred to Brest, where the latter is now operating, with the expectation that we shall very early receive advices of the shipment of bodies from that region. Should the railway congestion continue thereafter, it will be the policy to shift operations to other ports and operate in such cemeteries as may be contiguous thereto, where motor transportation may be utilized for the shorter distance involved in getting bodies to the port of shipment, to which ocean transportation can be diverted as required.

Secretary Baker outlines the action necessary in making removals to this country, and states that seventeen thousand caskets have already been purchased, but the shortage of materials for manufacture has caused vexatious delay in their delivery. In addition to those already shipped to Europe, 3,000 will be forwarded in March and 5,000 during April, and each month thereafter until the contract is completed.

He further states that the personal requests from relatives indicate that practically 70 per cent of the dead are to be returned to their homes, about 50,000 in all, and about 25,000 will remain permanently interred abroad. He estimates the cost as to involve a minimum expense of $500 in each case where a body is to be returned to the home of the next of kin. This is only tentative, however. Permanent interment in a field of honor abroad will probably cost about $350.

Secretary Baker in closing states that three zones have been created in Europe. The first is the zone of Great Britain, with headquarters at London. Second the zone of mid-Europe, comprising all the continental countries outside of France, and having headquarters at Coblenz. The third zone is France and the headquarters is in Paris.

The chief of the Graves Registration Service is at the head of a new division of the Quartermaster General's office, and is directing a large clerical force, which is engaged in the work of reconciling conflicting reports, completing identifications which have hitherto been in doubt, and working out from the great mass of diverse and even conflicting requests from relatives the necessary data upon which the return of bodies may be effected.

GOOD WILL AS A BUSINESS ASSET

Fair Treatment, Keeping Ones Word and Sharing Problems With Workers are Elements of Success, Mr. Ramsey Tells Rotarians.

Rotarian Charles Ramsey was the speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon on Wednesday, delivering a clear and thought-inspiring address on "Good Will as a Business Asset." Speaking from his own experience Mr. Ramsey showed that men like to buy from those who understand their business and will fill the wants of the customer intelligently and exactly. On one occasion when he was seeking an order for which there was keen competition another salesman said he could supply the goods in three weeks. Mr. Ramsey could not promise to fill it in less than three months, but he got the order because he had the good will of the customer and because his promise was known to be good.

On another occasion he found a piano manufacturer shut down for lack of a certain part which had been promised but not delivered. He got out a supply the same afternoon sufficient to enable the factory to resume business and on the good will thus created has had that manufacturer's business ever since, holding it by honest treatment. Never make promises unless you keep them. If something beyond control happens to delay a delivery explain promptly, truthfully and clearly and the customer will be reasonable. Have one price to all. Fair dealing brings business and makes friends.

Workmen need direction and you need their good will. Work with them and they will work with you. Workmen like to be consulted and often give suggestions, when consulted, that are valuable. They like to work for a man who knows the business he is engaged in and if consulted about factory problems will enter into the joy that is derived from solving problems.

Rest is necessary to successful and efficient work. Worrying over a problem of production of a new article on which his last penny was staked, at a profit, there seemed no solution until he went away on a vacation. Mr. Ramsey said. On his return the solution was arrived at in a few hours. He had gotten out of the rut and the holiday had cleared his mind. If a man cannot succeed without working night and day he had better give up the business and try something else.

Present day unrest is growing. Men are trying for something they cannot express in a concrete form. Higher wages does not allay this unrest except temporarily. Worker and employer must deal collectively with the problem, each having a voice in the problems of production and find some way to get at the heart of things and work out a way for a fair return for the service rendered by both employer and employe.

Mr. Ramsey described his own business as that of making certain essential parts of pianos that go inside the instrument, where nobody ever sees them.

COMMAND Rishell TO PLAY

Command Rishell, the Master Phonograph, to reproduce any music, any instrumentation, any spoken part ever recorded—and you will hear it as no other phonograph can reproduce it.

The Rishell Wood Tone Throat articulates with the perfection and beauty of human vocalism. Note the clear definition of the instruments when in overwhelming combination, as in Sousa's choir of trombones against the shrill wood tones, and the silvery song of the cornets. Then the pure vocal tones of the violin with orchestral background. Now, a high soprano's brilliance without a flaw. Or men's voices—heavy and voluminous—perfectly blended. No other phonograph has ever approximated such excellence!

Rishell is sold everywhere, always accompanied by the dealer's helpful service.

FISCHER WILL HANDLE WINES

Ex-Charity Commissioner Carl G. Fischer, the well-known proprietor of Fischer's Hotel on the Strand, has received a federal permit to handle wines for medicinal and sacramental purposes. He is one of the largest stockholders in a California vineyard and the wines that he will handle will be manufactured from the products of this vineyard. Mr. Fischer will sell wines only to those who have obtained government permission to purchase same.

LAURENTI HERE NEXT MONDAY

Next Monday is the date set for the second and last Symphony orchestral concert for this season, and at that concert, to be given at the Kingston Opera House, Mario Laurenti, the now famous and deservedly popular Metropolitan baritone soloist, will appear. Just how great a treat, musically, this will be for the music lovers of Kingston and vicinity will be realized when it is known that a short time ago Laurenti was soloist in the following performances at the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, all in one week: Verdi's "Rigoletto;" "Parsifal" in a new English version by Henry Edward Krehbiel; Puccini's "Tosca;" Moussorgsky's "Boris Godunoff."

Honorary sustaining members and patrons have already exchanged their tickets for the concert and the diagram is now open at the box office of the Opera House for the purchase of tickets by the general public. Single tickets will be $1.

In addition to the appearance of Laurenti, the orchestra will present an unusually fine orchestral program.

MILITIA QUELL KEWANEE RIOTS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Kewanee, Ill., April 15.—This overgrown factory town of thirty thousand persons, after a restless night following twelve hours of rioting and industrial anarchy produced by a strike of the employes of the Walworth Manufacturing Company, awoke today to find khaki clad militia men on every corner.

The state troops, it was reported, "have the situation well in hand."

The soldiers were ordered to Kewanee after a carnival of rioting occurred, after which many workers who had remained at the factory were slugged and shot and their families driven from their homes.

John Cassidy Pleasantly Surprised.

A surprise party was held at the home of John Cassidy, 147 Hasbrouck avenue, Wednesday night. At the opening of the party the Kearney brothers gave a 4 round exhibition boxing bout which pleased the boys very much. John Kernousky did his part by jigging. John Schoonmaker sang "Let the Rest of the World Go By." Abe Kingsberg kept the bunch laughing at his funny jokes, and Jimmie Gorman then sang "I'm For Dempsey Always," the latest song out and was applauded to the echo. The boys then had a chicken supper and departed wishing John many happy returns of the day. Those present were the Messrs. Kearney, John Schoonmaker, John Cassidy, John Kernousky, Abe Kingsberg, George [illegible], Tom [illegible], Clifford Harris, William [illegible], John [illegible], Joseph [illegible], James Gorman, David Graberg and Freddie [illegible].

Delaware Strikers Would Arbitrate.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Wilmington, Del., April 15.—The end of the "outlaw" rail strike appeared imminent here today when representatives of the strikers expressed a willingness to arbitrate. The railroads were maintaining a partial passenger schedule with volunteers and will make an effort to move perishable freight today. The Pennsylvania lines reported conditions improved. Four thousand men are on strike.

Year's Growth of a Pine Tree.

Mr. Hill, lockmaster at [illegible], Ont., experimented with a pine tree to determine improved growth which may be secured by proper care. Fifteen years ago he pruned all the lower branches off a four-inch white pine sapling, removing other saplings from its vicinity, dug up the earth around it and applied manure to its base. It is now nineteen inches in diameter at the base and has a long, clean pole. Thus, during the fifteen years the growth in diameter has averaged one inch annually.—From the Canadian.

The first successful operation with ether was performed on Eben H. Frost, who [illegible] that a handkerchief saturated with the mysterious something discovered by Dr. Morton, was pressed to his face and he became unconscious, awakening only to find that a diseased tooth had been extracted without his knowing anything about it. True Lotus and the Lotus of Poetry.

Neither the true lotus of ancient Egypt nor the sacred lotus of the Orient must be confused with the plant referred to in Tennyson's poem, which was the jujube, a prickly shrub bearing fruits resembling a plum or date and much used as a dessert. Homer describes the wandering Ulysses as arriving at the coast of Libya, where many of his sailors partook of the jujube fruits and immediately lost their desire to return to home and friends.—Journal of the New York Botanical Garden.

ANDERSON BRIEF GENERAL DENIAL

Anti-Saloon League Counsel Denies Legislature Has General Power To Punish For Contempt As Asserted By Cuvillier And Gillett.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., April 15.—State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League William Anderson today filed with the assembly judiciary committee his reply to charges of contempt of the state assembly, according to Robert G. Davey, counsel for the league.

"Mr. Anderson's replying brief," said Mr. Davey, "establishes conclusively that while Mr. Anderson's utterances and statements may have been irritating to certain members of the assembly and that while the earnestness of his spoken and written word may not have been to their liking, they were entirely within the rights of any citizen in declaring his opinion of the acts of public officials and that nothing is shown that constitutes violation of the legislative law or contempt of the legislature or any member of it."

Denial is made in the brief that the legislature "has the general power to punish for contempt," as alleged by Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier, who, with Assemblyman Ransom H. Gillett, preferred the contempt charges against Mr. Anderson and asked the assembly judiciary committee to investigate them.

One of the allegations on which the two assemblymen asked that Mr. Anderson be held in contempt is that he charged "a few service men," with being "brewery tools to line up all the service men in the legislature in favor of a nullification beer bill.

"Obviously, there is nothing in that statement that could be tortured into an excuse for contempt charges," said Davey. "It has no specific personal application and contains no specific information that the 'brewery tools' are members of the legislature."

Mr. Anderson's brief, according to Davey is a general denial that he has done anything for which the assembly can hold him in contempt.

The Anderson brief was not made public by the assembly judiciary committee.

Ralph bent to kiss his mother.

"Did I guess it the first time I looked at you?" he said tenderly. "I told her, major, she was a heart breaker."

WHY BRABANT IS HONORED

Belgian Province Has Figured Long and Gloriously in the History of the Nation.

The title of duke of Brabant is given the crown prince of Belgium to perpetuate the name of the most populous province of the nation. It is only about the size of Rhode Island, but has thrice the population. It was conquered by Caesar, settled by Salic Franks, parceled out to Germany and made a part of Lower Lorraine. It then included North Brabant, now the largest province in Holland. For a time it was the pawn of its ruling dukes, but in 1356 the people wrested the "Joyeuse Entrée," which was akin to the British Magna Charta, from Duke John III. Brabant passed to the house of Burgundy and then fell into Spanish dominion, until the treaty of Utrecht gave it to the Hapsburgs of Austria. It was at Brussels that the uprising against Spanish tyranny was begun, which resulted in the 80 years' war of independence. The nation bore the Hapsburg yoke no more willingly, and when Joseph II tried to interfere with the "Joy Entree," he precipitated the revolt of 1789. At Brussels, too, was fomented the revolution of 1830 against the Dutch rule, which resulted in the independence of Belgium. One of the first acts of the new nation was to adopt the Brabant colors for the national flag and the lion of Brabant as the national coat-of-arms.

RACIAL VIGOR WILL RETURN

English Writer of Opinion That Matter May Safely Be Left to Mother Nature.

Many writers have laid stress upon the fact that Europe, in losing the flower of its youth upon the battlefield, has left only the least fit and most unhealthy to become the progenitors of future races. And they cite the effect of the Napoleonic wars on the physique and stamina of the French.

In answer to these pessimists the scientific editor of the Illustrated London News writes:

"Against this it may be urged that the recuperative power of nature soon reasserts itself, and no one who has watched year by year up to 1914 (as did the present writer) the yearly reviews on July 14 could doubt that, at the outbreak of the present war, the Frenchmen had more than recovered the tall stature and the high muscular and nervous energy of his forefathers. While, therefore, we must expect a certain falling off in the physique of the children born between, say, 1914 and thirty years hence, we may be fairly confident that, given the maintenance of the present standard of living and the absence of any great epidemic, at the end of that time the English race will return to its prewar standard of physical fitness."

Just Answered to Her.

A child's prayer has long been celebrated in song and story. Prayers from the youthful lips of faith have ever appealed to mankind. There are few so hardened as not to be moved by such prayers, or remember with awe their own lisping of "Now I lay me down to sleep."

Children also, in their innocence, sometimes say prayers which are not without their humorous side, and these, too, have been handed down to posterity. In this latter class belongs the following true account of the prayer of a little girl who lives just on the other side of the District line in Maryland.

Little Lois was completing her evening prayer at her mother's knee.

"Amen," finished Lois, and then, without a pause:

"Mamma, has the Lord got a bald head like daddy?"—Washington Star.

Lovers' Communication.

When the petals of the great laurel magnolia are touched, however lightly, the result is a brown spot, which develops in a few hours. This fact is taken advantage of by the South American lover, who pulls a magnolia flower, and on one of its pure white petals writes a motto or message. Then he sends the flower; the young lady puts it in a vase of water, and in three or four hours the message written on the leaf becomes perfectly visible, and remains so.

Thomas MacCurtain

First photograph of Thomas MacCurtain, slain Lord Mayor of Cork, to reach this country. MacCurtain was slain in the doorway of his home by a party of unindentified men. The Lord Mayor, carrying an infant son, in his arms, answered a ring at his door. Opening the door he was confronted by the masked men who knocked the infant from his arms and then shot him to death. The British authorities maintain that MacCurtain was slain by members of the Sinn Fein. Feeling ran high in Cork following the murder, and serious outbreaks were suppressed only by the quick arrival of troops.

The KITCHEN CABINET

It is thought and forethought which keep the home machinery running smoothly, and each member should have his share, from the two-year-old up to the head of the house.

QUICKLY PREPARED MEALS.

Every housekeeper is confronted with the problem of getting meals in a hurry. Sometimes it is for the unexpected guest, and sometimes preparations have been delayed beyond the time usually allowed for such preparations. Fortunate, indeed, is she who has a well-stocked supply shelf or enough readily convertible leftovers with which to start the meal. Previously cooked potatoes are easily prepared in various ways. Cubed with bits of onion and browned in the hot fat left from chops, or steak, they are good, or they can be fried in bacon fat. The quickest way to cook raw potatoes is to cube them and cook in boiling salted water. Afterwards they may be mashed and seasoned or turned into a rich white sauce which has been prepared while the potatoes were cooking.

Hot breads may be prepared in a short time and if baked as biscuits, or as gems in muffin pans, will bake in fifteen to twenty minutes. Griddle cakes spread with butter, sugar or jelly, piled in layers and cut, are quickly prepared. Biscuit dough baked, then split open and served with fruit, makes a good shortcake, always enjoyed.

With a jar of salad dressing on hand a simple salad may be made of lettuce with a handful of peanuts rolled on the molding board until they are like coarse crumbs, sprinkled over the lettuce, with a spoonful of chopped onion, served with French dressing. This is a most appetizing salad.

Any leftover vegetables can be cubed into a combination salad; beets, peas, beans, cucumbers, tomatoes or carrots. Celery and nuts are good combined with any kind of fruit. If one has canned fish, shrimp or lobster, with celery and cabbage a most nourishing salad or a main dish may be prepared which will be very satisfying.

A meat loaf with baked potatoes may be cooked in three-quarters of an hour. Scalloped dishes with bread crumbs, cheese and vegetables will make another good main dish.

John Granau, president and organizer, and James S. O'Gara, organizer, in Chicago, of the Yardmen's Association. It is asserted that Granau, who was formerly a conductor on a train running out of Chicago, is the "lone man" who started the "outlaw" strike which threatens to paralyze railroad traffic and industries throughout the country. It is reported that the walkout was a protest against Granau being removed.

Sandpaper Label.

A device for protecting people from taking doses from poison bottles by mistake is a sandpaper label. The ordinary label is pasted to a piece of sandpaper large enough to go all around the bottle, so that when any one takes up the bottle in the night, no matter how dazed from sleep he may be, the rough, unfamiliar feel of the sandpaper rouses him and he recognizes at once that the bottle contains poison of some description. The printed label tells the kind of poison in the bottle.

Origin of the Name.

The word "Hun" was first applied to a horde of savages, who, in the fourth century of the Christian era came into Europe from Central Asia, and under the command of Attila began to desolate the Roman empire, its colonies and dependencies. The word is an abbreviation of the Low Latin word "Hunni," meaning the Hiung-nu-like mongoo people, who, according to Chinese annals, constituted about the end of the third century B. C., a powerful empire in Central Asia.

Some Republican members of the committee urged the senate be recommended to act on the Knox peace resolution now on the senate calendar instead of on the house measure.

It was also suggested the entire question of congress enacting peace legislation be threshed out at a conference between Republican leaders of the senate and house.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New York, April 15.—Prices continued their upward movement at the opening of the stock market today, with the buying of the steel shares the chief feature. Vanadium Steel was in urgent demand and rose 4 points to 92. Replogle Steel, on heavy buying, jumped 3⅜ to 87¼. Steel Common advanced ⅜ to 106⅜; Baldwin Locomotive 1⅜ to 143; Republic Steel 1¼ to 114½ and American Locomotive 2¼ to 103⅜. Mexican Petroleum rose 3 points to 207; Pan-American Petroleum 1 point to 115½ and Royal Dutch 1⅝ to 115⅝. The sugar stocks moved in an irregular manner, Manati Sugar advancing 1⅜ to 149 and American Beet Sugar 1 point to 100¾, while Punta Algra fell 1½ to 114. Studebaker advanced 1⅞ to 124½, while General Motors was 3 points lower at 359. Stromberg Carburetor rose 1½ to 103½ and Atlantic Gulf 1 point to 172. Fractional gains were made in the tobacco and railroad issues.

The market suffered recessions of about 1 point after the opening advance, but in the late forenoon the market again turned strong. Steel Common, after dropping to 105⅝, rallied to above 106. Republic Steel fell to 113¼. Baldwin Locomotive reacted nearly 2 points to 141⅜. Vanadium Steel rose further to 94. The oil issues were irregular, Mexican Petroleum yielding all of its early gain while Royal Dutch displayed strength. Studebaker rose to 125½. Standard Oil of New Jersey fell over 8 points to 707¾.

The advance in the call money rate to 12 per cent caused an unsettled tone to the market during the afternoon.

The market closed steady; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds weak.

ISOLATE ALL AILING FOWLS

Some Common Poultry Diseases and Treatment—Use Potassium Permanganate for Colds.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

All diseased birds should be isolated.

Colds and Roup.—Disinfect the drinking water as follows: To each gallon of water add the quantity of potassium permanganate that will remain on the surface of a dime.

Canker—Sprinkle a little flowers of sulphur in the mouth and throat of the bird and put some chlorate of potash in the water. Also carefully remove the exudate with the aid of warm water and paint with iodine or apply a good disinfectant to the diseased tissue.

A Case of Scaly Legs.

Chicken Pox.—Apply a touch of iodine to each sore and then cover with carbolated vaseline. If the diseased parts are kept well covered with the vaseline it will usually effect a cure.

Gapes.—New ground and vigorous cultivation will often remedy this trouble. A liberal sprinkling of lime around the coops and runs is quite often an effective remedy.

Scaly Legs.—Apply vaseline containing a disinfectant to the affected parts, and after 24 hours soak in warm soapy water. Repeat treatment until cured.

Diarrhea in Hens. — Low-grade wheat flour or middlings are good for this trouble. Also give each fowl a teaspoonful of castor oil containing five drops of oil of turpentine.

Bowel Trouble in Chicks.—Well-boiled rice mixed with a little charcoal will often check this complaint. Dissolve 15 grains of crude catechu in each gallon of drinking water.

Phase of Home Production That Should Be Considered by Those Desiring Eggs and Meat.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The keeping of fowls on a town lot or in the back yard is a phase of home production that should be considered by all who desire to supply the table with eggs and meat at a cost considerably below the usual market price. Ordinarily, the keeping of from 12 to 25 hens is sufficient to provide the average family with eggs and meat. For a flock of 25 hens a space of from 20 to 30 square feet per bird should be allowed, and the yard so divided as to permit them to be alternated from one yard to the other. Thus, a lot of 25 by 30 feet, which is even smaller than the average town lot, should be the minimum space for a flock of this size. By having the yard divided cover crops, such as wheat, oats, rape, or rye, can be growing in the unused yard and when sufficiently grown the fowls be allowed to pasture it.

For a yard 25 by 30 feet, or 750 square feet in size, the above-mentioned grains may be sown in the following amounts: Wheat, 2½ pounds; oats, 1½ pounds; rye, 3¼ pounds; rape, 2½ ounces. When available, lawn clippings make excellent green feed for fowls.

In this way the contamination of the soil and the possibility of disease are reduced to a minimum, and at the same time green food is provided.

A Suitable Type of Poultry House for the Town Poultry Keeper Whose Space Is Limited.

The actual selection of the breed should not be a difficult matter when one considers that more depends upon the way fowls are managed than upon the breed itself. Pure-bred fowls of the general-purpose or egg type purchased for a reasonable figure are well suited for backyard poultry plants. However, when pure-bred fowls can not be obtained, grades properly cared for and fed will usually produce sufficient eggs and meat for the table of the average family.

SENSIBLE TREATMENT OF HEN

Indispensable Requirements for Success Are Comfortable Quarters and Good Food.

It makes no difference to a canary whether it is kept in a cage that cost $10 or 10 cents, or whether it has its feed and drink in china or earthen dishes; but it makes an immense difference whether it has good care or is neglected, and whether or not its needs are properly supplied. These things are equally true of a hen. Sensible treatment is of far greater importance than stylish quarters.

A fine equipment should not be despised. It can be so used as to be of great value. Still it is not one of the vital things. The indispensable requirements for success in the poultry business are good stock; comfortable and healthful quarters; feed and drink of good quality, in proper quantity and at suitable times; and full protection from diseases and enemies.

AVOID SOUR OR MUSTY FOOD

Severe Losses Will Result From Use of Poor Food During Hot Days of Summer.

During hot weather sour or musty food is more apt to be used for poultry feed than in the winter. Severe losses will result from the use of poor food, so it pays to know the exact condition of the grain in the bins which may have been there for a long time. Never allow portions of the mash to remain in the troughs on hot days as it may become contaminated with dirt and then be eaten by the young stock.

Profane Expression.

Do not think you are profane when you say that you "don't care a dam." The truth is that a dam was the smallest Hindu coin at a time when the English were invading India, and the expression that one "didn't give a dam" naturally sprang up to mean that a matter was of next to no importance.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

MISS MUSK-OX.

"Well, the old fellow thought he had a good joke the other day, but I have a better one," said Miss Musk-Ox.

"Of whom are you talking?" asked Mrs. Musk-Ox.

"Your husband, madam," said Miss Musk-Ox. "When I have some one to talk about I don't talk about anyone small and of no importance, like a baby, for example, a real baby or a little birdling, or a fish, or a lizard, or anything like that."

"It's a lucky thing that a child isn't around to hear you speak of a little baby brother or sister in the same voice as you do of a fish or a lizard," said Mrs. Musk-Ox.

"I said nothing about a little baby brother or sister."

"Well, the baby would be a brother to the rest of the family, if he were a little boy, and a sister, if she were a little girl," said Mrs. Musk-Ox.

"And if she had no sisters and brothers she would simply be a little baby, or he would simply be a little baby," said Miss Musk-Ox.

"Gracious, but you're a stubborn creature," said Mrs. Musk-Ox.

"What is more," she added, "you like to correct me, but you don't mean any special kind of a baby—or in any special family, or anything like that, and then you pretend that I was wrong and tried to put me in a hole."

"I tried to put you in your place, but your place is not a hole. No," continued Miss Musk-Ox, "I wouldn't put you in a hole. No, I wouldn't. I'm too nice for that, much too nice for that.

"You're a Stubborn Creature."

"But I'm not too nice about everything. It's a mistake to be too nice, a great, great mistake. Why, if you were too nice everyone would make you always talk to them and play with them, and all sorts of things like that."

"You don't suppose you would ever like doing so much for others, and having a sweet disposition, would you, Miss Musk-Ox?"

"Gracious, what good would a sweet disposition do me?" she said. "I can't eat it."

"Well, it's a lucky thing we who have nice dispositions can't eat them," grinned Mrs. Musk-Ox, "as we'd hate to lose them."

"And it wouldn't make me look any more handsome," said Miss Musk-Ox, "no, not in the least.

"To be sure," she added, "it would be well nigh impossible to make me look any more handsome than I am." She grinned in a very self-satisfied manner. "But Mr. Musk-Ox, ha, ha!"

"Really, the idea of talking in such a fashion about my mate, my good, kind mate," said Mrs. Musk-Ox, shaking her hair. The musk-ox family belongs somewhere between the oxen family and the sheep family.

"It's a compliment when I call him old," said Miss Musk-Ox, "for you know I don't like young creatures."

"I know that," said Mrs. Musk-Ox. "You are quite the most tempery musk-ox in the zoo."

"Well," said Miss Musk-Ox, "I am glad of it. I have always been proud of my temper, and besides I would hate to disappoint the keeper and people."

"Whatever do you mean?" asked Mrs. Musk-Ox.

"Don't you see," said Miss Musk-Ox, "that they all know I have a temper? Now, if I should become too pleasant, they would all be disappointed. I would be so different and unnatural then. It is always best to be natural."

"Well," said Mrs. Musk-Ox, "you have a strange way of looking at things."

"I look at things the same way as any one else does," said Miss Musk-Ox, "with my eyes."

"I mean that you have a strange way of thinking about things," said Mrs. Musk-Ox.

"I think with my brains," said Miss Musk-Ox, grinning.

"Oh, well, you know what I mean," said Mrs. Musk-Ox. "But tell me what is your little joke?"

"Ah," said Miss Musk-Ox, "I have always insisted upon being with creatures of my own age. They have always to do as I say. Now, they thought perhaps this year I would feel differently about it, and they put me in a yard with some younger members of the family! I soon made it plain I wouldn't stay with young things, and so they gave in to me, they did!"

Ravens of Tower of London.

The ravens are an institution in the Tower of London, although there is no record that they are one of its historic features. One of the yeomen warders has charge of the ravens, giving each a particular name, such as "Jumbo Crow," "Mike," if it suits the character of the bird.—[illegible]

Peter W. Foley of Winchester, Mass., 65 years old, has entered the Boston marathon race which is scheduled for April 17. For many years Mr. Foley has celebrated his birthday, April 17, by running over the grueling course from Ashland to Boston. Thus far the aged marathoner has never failed to finish the long grind and has often finished in the van of youngsters less than a third of his age. His time over the full course last year was four hours and eight minutes.

Chinese Mail Up to Date.

The Chinese mail bag is now a popular institution throughout the whole of the ancient empire. Established 22 years ago, active development of the department only began after the Boxer revolution. In 1918 9,000 miles of overland routes were added to the service. And now a new continuous overland courier route of roughly 3,375 miles, the longest in the world, connects Kalgan by way of Mongolia with Tihwafu, capital of the Sinkiang (Chinese Turkestan), following in part the old trade routes from China to Persia. The townspeople of a flourishing manufacturing district were so enraged recently by the delay of mail that they appealed to the court, and the party responsible was ordered to be decapitated if he offended again. Probably they had missed their copies of the Family Herald!

With the Children.

Gene Stratton Porter, age two and one-half, daughter of Dr. E. A. Porter, Hartsville, Ind., has difficulty finding proper words to express herself, as most children at that age do. Personal pronouns are particularly difficult.

One of her friends asked Gene to go home with her recently.

"I want to go home with Hazel, mother, can me? I want to go down there with she."

One morning she came downstairs with her shoes on the wrong feet and looking at them with a puzzled expression said: "Mother, me got my shoes on wrong side out."—Indianapolis News.

Observations of Connecticut Naturalist

There is a reason why cats walk on stone fences in their peregrinations. A cat will often travel three or four miles in search of prey. By walking on a stone fence they have a better chance to get the lay of the land. Thus, when the cat desires to return, if it once strikes a fence upon which it has traveled, its way home is then clear. A cat generally has a good reason for everything it does.—Farmingville Correspondence Ridgefield Press.

Roll the Table Cloth.

In some of the domestic science schools the pupils are now taught to roll table cloths instead of folding them, since the folds in the linen are always the first places to show wear. The cloths are ironed flat and rolled while being ironed. Start to roll them as soon as a half a yard is ironed and keep the roll directly in front, turning it as fast as the ironing is done. Thick brown paper may be used if you have no regular roll. One clever woman who procured several mailing tubes placed them end to end and covered them with a fancy wall paper, pasting it on securely. This makes a firm foundation for the roll.

OVERHAUL AUTO AT EARLY DATE

Spring Is Time to Get Car Into Shape for Use During Entire Summer Season.

SOME TIMELY SUGGESTIONS

First Question to Be Decided Is Whether There Is Any Part of Mechanism Needing Repair That Owner Cannot Give.

It used to be the fashion for village debating societies to discuss at needless length the thrilling question of whether the pleasures of anticipation are greater than those of realization. We need not enter into this now, but certainly the present season, with its anticipations of the joyous time just ahead, is not the least pleasurable of the motorcar owner's year.

But if the full enjoyment of these coming days of spring is to be realized the car owner must give his vehicle some careful attention at the present moment.

The first question that must be decided in undertaking the spring overhaul is whether there is any vital part of the mechanism that requires attention which the owner does not feel able to give. Does the rear axle need overhauling? Is the transmission good for another season? Do the engine bearings require adjustment? If the car must go to the service station for some replacement or repair, take it today.

As a beginning of the work that you intend to do yourself make a careful list of all parts and equipment that you are going to need. Gather the various things you expect to use, cotter pins, nuts, bolts, valve-grinding compound, patches, cement, waste, gaskets, grease, graphite, oils, kerosene, valve spring, lifter, etc.

Cleaning Comes First.

With the materials all gathered and ready to hand, the first step in overhauling is a thorough cleaning. This should include not only the body, but the upholstery and the running gear underneath the vehicle. The engine should be thoroughly cleaned, all gummy deposits being removed with kerosene. All oil compartments, crankcase, gearset, differential, etc., must be drained of their old oil, and after being flushed out with kerosene should be refilled with fresh lubricant.

It is best to begin with the engine and gradually work back through the mechanism. Unless the cylinders have recently had carbon removed this is the first step.

The carbon having been removed, the next step is to grind the valves. For this operation a valve spring lifter is needed and some good grinding compound. A grinding tool is extremely handy for the work, but a screwdriver may be used.

Put Back Cylinder Head.

With this work done the cylinder head should be put back. It is not advisable to use the old gasket in reassembling. A new gasket should be ready to install. The seat should be perfectly clean and the gasket should be covered with a little shellac and then be put in place. After applying the cylinder head tighten the nuts, drawing down first one a little and then the opposite one. Do not draw one nut down all the way and so on around, as this may spring the cylinder head.

The inlet manifold will next require a little attention. The gasket here will probably need replacement and sheet asbestos will be used, liberally covered with graphite. Finally give the engine a general tightening up. Use the wrench on all nuts; tighten the pump packing nut if a pump is used. Give the fan any adjustment it may need. Tighten all the ignition wire terminals. See that the magneto, if one is used, is tightly bolted down. Do the same for the generator.

The starting and lighting system will require an overhauling, and this had best be delegated to the service station.

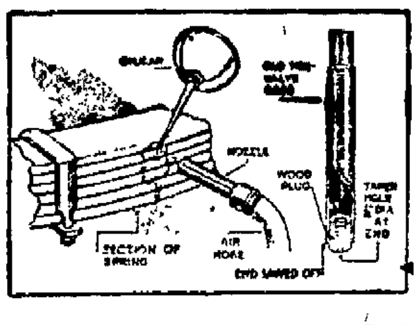
USE COMPRESSED AIR FOR OILING SPRINGS

Interesting Possibilities Offered to Car Owners.

Many People Apply Light Oil to Side of Spring, Trusting to Luck That It will "Creep" in Between Different Leaves.

Many people try to avoid the disagreeable job of greasing auto springs, by applying a light oil to the side of the spring, trusting to its tendency to "creep" in between the leaves. Some of it usually does, but not enough to do much good. Of course, the body of the car is first jacked up, so as to let the weight of wheels and axles open the spring as far as possible.

If compressed air is available, or even a helper to work the tire pump, a blast of air against the side of the spring will usually carry a part of the oil in where it belongs. The sketch illustrates the method. A nozzle may be improvised from an old tire valve, as shown at the right.



For the Car Owner Who Cannot Find Time to Grease the Springs in the Reliable Way, Compressed Air Offers Interesting Possibilities.

A little fine-flaked or powdered graphite with the oil will make its effect much more lasting.—John A. Prior, New Haven, Conn., in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

KEEP SEDIMENT TRAP CLEAN

Wire Gauze Screen Is Provided to Catch All Foreign Matter That Accumulates.

Most present-day gasoline tanks are fitted with a sediment trap, which usually is located at the place where the pipe line leaves the tank. This trap has a wire gauze screen and a cup is provided to catch foreign matter. The car owner should make it a practice to clean this sediment trap out twice a month during active operation. The present grade of motor fuel is not strictly pure and foreign matter rapidly accumulates in this catch-all.

AUTOMOBILE HINTS

The porcelain of a spark plug may be made almost as clean as new by soaking in carbon disulphide.

• • •

Short circuits may be found in countless places. Generally they are found in the battery itself.

• • •

When driving in the rain, snow or fog it is very essential that the windshield should be kept clean.

• • •

After it has stood for several days, even in a tight tank, gasoline will become dead and slow to ignite.

• • •

Stronger motor car bodies are being built, but so far the locomotives have won all the arguments.

• • •

In many makes of wire wheels the greatest care must be exercised in putting the locking devices in place.

• • •

Many motorists carry a flashlight in their cars, and this little piece of equipment is extremely valuable for emergency use.

• • •

The motortruck buyer must be careful in selecting a vehicle to see that the body is not too wide or too long to transgress some local ordinance.

CAR BUILT TO CARRY HORSES IN COMFORT

The difficulties of transporting race horses from stables right into the race course has now been overcome by a motor horse box which has been so constructed as to comfortably accommodate two horses and four stable lads and their kits. The door at the back is for loading, and that at the side for unloading.

Scriptural Quotation.

When you say you have escaped by the skin of your teeth, do you know you are quoting Scripture? Look in the twentieth verse of the nineteenth chapter of Job and you will find the line: "My bone cleaveth to my skin and to my flesh, and I am escaped with the skin of my teeth."

Valuable Spanish Products.

Spain is an important producer of a number of essential oils, including spike, rosemary, thyme, sage, pennyroyal and geranium. The plants grow wild and distillation is carried on by large steam distilleries as well as by many small direct-fire stills.—Exchange.

Loser Blames Flying Cigarette Butt —Fight Went Just Two Rounds at Hustler Show in Poughkeepsie Wednesday.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle-News says:

Fights, near fights, arguments and everything featured the "Poughkeepsie Night" at the Hustler Club's weekly bouts Wednesday evening.

Vincent Coffey and K. O. Smith started out to have a regular battle with both swapping punches liberally and the first round gave promise of a grudge fight. The second round Coffey got clubby and smashed in several good punches that worried Smith. Smith fell to the floor four times and stayed there until the last count and then go up ready to fight. At the fifth fall everybody got excited and Smith failed to hear Sap count ten and did not get up. When he did arise he was already to fight and claimed that a lighted cigarette had been thrown in the ring and had hit him in the eye There is no doubt but what the cigarette was thrown in the ring, but where it hit is questionable. Smith challenged Coffey to a return fight, winner take all, after the rumpus had quieted down. The challenge was accepted.

PAPER SITUATION CALLED CRITICAL

By Secretary Meredith—President Sisson, of Paper Manufacturers, Urges National Policy of Forest Conservation.

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New York, April 15.—Warning against a paper famine, President George Sisson, Jr., urged an immediate national legislative policy of forest preservation before the American Paper and Pulp Association in convention here today. He declared prodigal measures in the forests and mills has brought the industry face to face with an alarming condition.

He said that Canada, reported to be considering an embargo on wood exports, could not afford to take this action because it needs American coal.

"There is no danger of neglecting opportunities in foreign trade," he said. "While we do not particularly need this foreign business today, the time may come when it will be necessary to absorb our excess production."

Secretary of the Interior Meredith, in a letter read to the convention, declared America faced the most critical paper and pulp situation in its history. He advocated national conservation in forestry to create a permanent supply of raw materials.

"The situation is most serious," said the secretary. "Our demand increased from 500,000 tons in 1914 to 1,700,000 tons in 1918, or approximately 200 per cent. Two decades ago the United States was practically self supporting in newsprint production, but today we are dependent on other countries for two-thirds of the pulpwood, pulp or newsprint, which goes into the American newspapers."

Secretary Meredith advocated development of the industry in the Pacific northwest and Alaska with increased growing activity in New England and lake states.

United States Senator Lenroot of Wisconsin will address the convention today.

Ex-Secretary Franklin K. Lane is also on the program.

General Gaishi Nagaoka, chief of the Japanese Army Aviation Service, snapped on his arrival in New York aboard the liner Baltic. General Nagaoka has spent two months studying aviation in Europe, and is here for the purpose of studying American machines and methods.

The Universal Color.

The professional mixer of paints knows that fierce color discord can easily be created by a misplacing of green. But Nature never misplaces it. Even blue stands without tiring, cheek by cheek with Nature's greens. Larkspurs and lobelias go quietly arm in arm with their respective foliage. Any rose of any tint or color is best set off by a green rose leaf. Every spring or fall color, pale or florid will shade pleasantly into green on the very same leaf.

SIX ACRES ADDED TO FAIR GROUNDS

The Kingston Fair Ground Association, Inc., has taken over the land of Owen Cassidy, at the rear of Hurley avenue being six acres, and which adjoins the fair ground property, of which it now becomes a part. The acreage acquired will now add sufficient room for one-half mile race track. This addition gives the association 23 full acres of as fine a piece of land within the city limits. In a few days work of grading the grounds will be started, and the entire place put in first class shape for out door amusement purposes. With a race track and the probability of having fairs on the grounds, Kingston will be the Mecca for many out of town people.

Short Line Heads Confer.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, April 15.—Several hundred officers of short line railroads from all parts of the country began a two days' session today for the purpose of discussing a return of the short lines to the new transportation act. Edgar E. Clark, Senator A. B. Cummins and Senator John T. Robinson were among the speakers.

The "Huns" in History.

Hodgkin in his "Italy and Her Invaders" speaks of the Huns, prior to their European invasion. But for one somewhat disputed source of information, all is dark concerning them. That source is the history of China. If the Huns be the Hiong-nu, whose ravages are recorded in that history, then we have a minute account of their doings for centuries before the Christian era.

Free food for loyal R.R. men.
INTERNATIONAL

The "outlaw" strike of railroad workers which has completely disrupted transportation throughout the country is rapidly spreading. The situation has reached the stage where cities in the East and Middle West are facing food famines and a general shut-down of industries. Many loyal men have disregarded the call of the strikers and have remained on the job. This photograph, taken in a Chicago yard, shows some of the loyal men being given free food in one of the company's dining cars.

Punctuality Valuable Asset.

Many of young men have failed of promotion or lost good positions because of the lack of punctuality. There is no more desirable business qualification than this and no other so indispensable to a man of affairs, or to any one who would save his own time and that of others. "If a man has no regard for the time of other men," said Horace Greeley, "why should he have for their money? What is the difference between taking a man's hour and taking his $5? There are many men to whom each hour of the business day is worth many times $5."—Chicago Daily News.

"Rush" Work Seldom Good.

It is all right to be busy, provided it is the right kind of busy. Some people are in a constant state of hurry which borders on confusion, because they never begin in time, never make the right sort of preparation, and never stop long enough to calm their minds in order to get their bearings.

Lack of Tact.

Jones—What a Jonah that fellow Smith is! After owing me $5 for two years he came up to me on the street and paid me right while I was talking to Brown, whom I had owed $5 for three years!—Chicago Daily News.
